

READ-A-THON

February 27&28, 2014

Fact Families

Across

1. I'm a little bit more than right. Angularly speaking.
5. You couldn't make ll without me. Linearly speaking.
7. You couldn't make T without me. Linearly speaking.
8. Sheez, don't corner me.
10. I'm not wrong, and it's not cute. I'm just less than right.
12. With 2 congruent sides, I can look and sound like an icicle.
14. "Divide and conquer." Or, find the _____.
15. The answer to a division problem...but not the quotient.
16. Numbers to the right of the _____ point are between 0 and 1.

Down

2. I have 3 unequal, straight sides.
3. You get me by multiplying. I promise good times.
4. The product of a number multiplied by itself.
5. A number with exactly two different factors-itself and 1.
6. The distance around a circle.
9. I have 4 congruent sides. But I'm not always boring.
11. I raise things to a new power. Exponentially speaking.
13. A guess, mathematically speaking.

Words you might want help spelling:
 Parallel, Perpendicular, Vertex,
 Circumference, Scalene, Isosceles,
 Obtuse, Acute, Prime, Rhombus,
 Decimal